- Assault/Threat (Non-Criminal)- 0
- Physical Attack- 0

b. Middle School Transition Updates
- 2 more middle school students enrolled this week.
- There's a new middle school mural on the 2nd floor for our middle school and new installation in the front office of our new Coral Cove Academy of the Arts crest.
- Our capacity can hold about 100 students per grade level in the middle school.
- Our goal is to have at least 2 assistant principals and 2 school counselors for our full K-8.
- We will continue to get new furniture for the new middle school classrooms.
- There's a district boundary meeting tonight to discuss our potential boundaries changing in the district with final decisions made around December in the district. All information below would be applied only if Coral Cove Academy of the Arts becomes a full K-8 next year:
- Coral Cove Academy of the Arts has the potential to become a full K-8 school and now students wouldn't have to choose to "stay at our school", but instead they would be potentially required to fill out the School Choice process to choose to "leave our school".
- If the boundary changes go into effect, we may potentially be gaining both 7th and 8th grade next year.
- 6th graders don't compete in sports yet this school year since they are too young to compete against 7th and 8th graders. However, if we potentially move to a full K-8 next year, full sports will begin.

- If we get both 7th and 8th grade, we will add more Cambridge Learning classes. Everything remains the same for enrichment groups in K-5.
- If we move into a full K-8, FLVS online classes would also be offered next year.
