

Educational Rights

Under the McKinney-Vento Act, homeless children and youth have the right to:

- receive a free, appropriate public education;
- enroll in school immediately, even if lacking documents normally required for enrollment;
- enroll in school and attend classes while the school gathers needed documents;
- enroll in the best school, or continue attending the school of origin (the school they attended when permanently housed or the school in which they were last enrolled), according to each student's best interest;
- if the school district believes that the school selected is not in the student's best interest, the district must provide the parent/guardian or unaccompanied youth with a written explanation of its position and inform the parent/guardian or youth of the right to appeal its decision;
- receive transportation to and from the school of origin, if requested;
- receive educational services comparable to those provided to other students, according to each student's needs.

NCHC publications are supported through a contract with the U.S. Department of Education.
